The arts should be at the centre of the primary curriculum

- Strongly Disagree: 1%
- Disagree: 12%
- Neutral: 41%
- Agree: 35%
- Strongly Agree: 10%
- No response: 1%

I regularly participate in the arts as an adult

- Strongly Disagree: 21%
- Disagree: 33%
- Neutral: 25%
- Agree: 17%
- Strongly Agree: 6%

I consider myself to be artistic

- Strongly Disagree: 4%
- Disagree: 25%
- Neutral: 43%
- Agree: 23%
- Strongly Agree: 3%

The arts were an important part of my own education

- Strongly Disagree: 1%
- Disagree: 12%
- Neutral: 21%
- Agree: 41%
- Strongly Agree: 22%

I consider myself to be artistic

- Strongly Disagree: 16%
- Disagree: 23%
- Neutral: 14%
- Agree: 43%
- Strongly Agree: 3%

The arts should be at the centre of the primary curriculum

- Strongly Disagree: 11%
- Disagree: 17%
- Neutral: 43%
- Agree: 35%
- Strongly Agree: 12%
Creativity is mainly associated with the arts

- Strongly Disagree: 7%
- Disagree: 21%
- Neutral: 5%
- Agree: 36%
- Strongly Agree: 32%
- No response: 5%

In my experience, most primary schools don’t devote enough time to the arts

- Strongly Disagree: 12%
- Disagree: 28%
- Neutral: 5%
- Agree: 47%
- Strongly Agree: 5%
- No response: 6%

The arts are fundamental to children’s learning

- Strongly Disagree: 1%
- Disagree: 0%
- Neutral: 5%
- Agree: 47%
- Strongly Agree: 47%
- No response: 0%
Children need to work with artists in primary schools

The arts are fundamental to children’s cultural development

When the arts are taught together they are more powerful than when taught separately

The arts are fundamental to children’s cultural development

The arts are fundamental to children’s cultural development

The arts are fundamental to children’s cultural development
I feel confident to include the arts in my own teaching

- Strongly Disagree: 2%
- Disagree: 13%
- Neutral: 57%
- Agree: 29%
- Strongly Agree: 0%

I know how to bring together different art forms in my teaching

- Strongly Disagree: 8%
- Disagree: 1%
- Neutral: 9%
- Agree: 32%
- Strongly Agree: 50%